TT electronics' supply status reference the flooding in Thailand.

The monsoon flooding in Thailand has affected the installations of several global material and packaging suppliers within the electronics supply chain.

TT electronics' material management teams are maintaining regular contact with all our suppliers located in Thailand to review any impact on their facilities and subsequent impact on supply. We have a list of affected suppliers and, with the exception of a few isolated incidents, the current impact to TT electronics is minimal.

The materials management team is conducting weekly reviews with these suppliers and will release updates should any issue arise.

TT electronics is committed to managing their supply chain through dynamic communication and risk assessment to ensure continuity of supply.

Yours sincerely

TT electronics
